

CHAPTER 6

OVERPAYMENTS

IN GENERAL

This chapter deals with state law provisions that pertain to identifying, establishing, and collecting UI benefit overpayments. All states' laws have provisions addressing these matters. A state's law generally differs in the treatment of overpayments in which the individual is not at fault or is not committing fraud, and overpayments in which the individual has committed fraud or willful misrepresentation, or concealed material facts. In addition, state laws contain provisions for fines and imprisonment for willfully or intentionally misrepresenting or concealing facts material to a determination concerning the individual's entitlement to benefits.

NONFRAUD AND NONFAULT PROVISIONS

WAIVERS—Some states provide that, if the overpayment is without fault or fraud on the individual's part, the individual is not liable to repay the amount overpaid. The following table lists the states that waive certain nonfraud or nonfault overpayments.

TABLE 6-1: WAIVER OF NONFRAUD OR NONFAULT OVERPAYMENTS
State	Additional Information
AL	If overpayment not fault of individual, except if overpayment results from a back pay award or from Java decisions; when overpayment results from benefit payments based on exempt or non-covered wages erroneously reported by an employer
AK	If timely waiver request filed, received benefits in good faith, and repayment would be against equity and good conscience
AZ	If overpayment not fault of individual and repayment or reduction would either defeat the purpose of the law or be against equity and good conscience
AR	If overpayment not fault of individual and repayment would be against equity and good conscience
CA	If individual has change of position and extraordinary hardship
CO	Depending upon financial condition, future earnings potential, whether individual detrimentally changed position in reliance on overpaid benefits; if individual relinquished rights to other governmental benefits to which he/she would have been entitled; if repayment would be inequitable
CT	If individual died, can't secure full-time job because of health, overpaid by retrospective application of legislation change, appeal reversal and didn't receive adequate notice to repay benefits, reliance upon the receipt of benefits, administrative error, or overpayment equal to or greater than 2 x WBA at time overpayment determination made and annualized family income within last 6 months is \leq 150% poverty level
DC	If overpayment not fault of individual and recovery of overpayment would place an extraordinary financial hardship on individual
FL	If overpayment is result of employer failure to respond timely to claim notice
GA	If timely waiver request filed; if overpayment not fault of individual; if repayment would be a financial hardship; if repayment is inequitable; and if the individual has no reasonable prospect of future employment nor ability to repay the overpayment in the future due to age, disability, or other good cause

TABLE 6-1: WAIVER OF NONFRAUD OR NONFAULT OVERPAYMENTS
State	Additional Information
HI	If overpayment not fault of individual and recovery would be against equity and good conscience
ID	If departmental error or if employer misreported wages and individual could not have been reasonably expected to have recognized error
IL	If nonfault overpayment on individual's part, waiver is requested by individual, and if such recoupment would be against equity and good conscience; waiver may be denied with respect to any subsequent week if, in that week, the facts and circumstances upon which waiver was based no longer exist
IN	Benefits were the result of payments made during the pendency of an appeal before an administrative law judge or the review board under which the individual is determined to be ineligible for benefits, or because of an error by the employer or the department and repayment would cause economic hardship to the individual; this applies only to claims filed against non-reimbursable employers
IA	Benefits paid not as the result of fraud or willful misrepresentation, if the employer did not participate in the initial determination and overpayment occurred as a result of a subsequent reversal on appeal
KS	Extreme hardship or fault of the agency
LA	If overpayment not fault of individual and recovery would be against equity and good conscience
ME	If nonfault of individual and, upon Commission approval, recovery would defeat the purpose of benefits or would be against equity and good conscience
MD	If timely waiver request filed; if overpayment nonfraud on part of individual; if not fault of individual and overpayment caused by agency error; individual lacks ability to pay now and in foreseeable future, or is likely to be below the Federal minimum poverty level and is likely to remain there in foreseeable future
MA	If timely waiver request is filed; if overpayment not fault of individual and recovery would either defeat the purpose of benefits or would be against equity and good conscience
MI	If overpayment not fault of individual and repayment would be against equity and good conscience; any interest shall be waived; overpayment result of administrative/clerical error and individual is unable to pay due to indigence or financial hardship
MN	If an unemployment law judge's order allows benefits because of a quit or discharge, and the decision is reversed by the Minnesota Court of Appeals or the Supreme Court of Minnesota
MT	If timely waiver request is filed; if overpayment not fault of individual and involved no fraud; if recovery causes a long-term financial hardship; if overpayment result of incorrect monetary determination due to employer error; and if overpayment resulted from department errors
NV	If overpayment nonfraud and not fault of individual and recovery would be against equity and good conscience
NH	If overpayment nonfault of individual
NJ	If nonfault and individual is deceased, permanently disabled and no longer able to work, or the recovery of the overpayment would be patently contrary to principles of equity
NC	Upon finding of good cause
ND	If overpayment nonfraud and not fault of individual and recovery would be against equity and good conscience
OH	If typographical or clerical error in decision, or error in employer's report
OR	Change in Federal or state law, the application of which has caused the disqualification of benefits previously paid; if recovery would be against equity and good conscience; if nonfraud and benefits paid in error not due to fraud of individual or if decision of eligibility is reversed and amount of overpayment is less than 1/2 of the maximum WBA in effect at time overpayment discovered
RI	If overpayment not fault of individual and recovery would defeat purpose of UI law
SC	If timely waiver request is filed; if overpayment nonfraud or not fault of individual and recovery would be against equity and good conscience
SD	If timely waiver request is filed; if overpayment not fault of individual and individual does not have the ability to repay; if recovery would defeat purpose of benefits or would be against equity and good conscience
TN	If timely waiver request is filed; if overpayment nonfraud or not fault of individual; recovery would be against equity and good conscience; if nonfraud of individual and a subsequent decision adverse to individual results because of employer's failure to respond to request for separation information or failure to appear for a scheduled appeal hearing
UT	If overpayment not fault of individual, and individual unable to meet more than basic needs for survival for an indefinite period lasting at least several months
VT	Overpayments not resulting from non-disclosure or misrepresentation by individual will be waived after fact-finding has been conducted
VI	If overpayment not fault of individual and recovery would be against equity and good conscience
WA	If overpayment nonfraud or not fault of individual and recovery would be against equity and good conscience

WI	If overpayment not fault of individual and recovery would be contrary to equity and good conscience
WY	If timely waiver request is filed; if overpayment nonfraud or not fault of individual; if recoupment defeats purpose of UI law or is against equity and good conscience; individual has extreme financial hardship

RECOVERY PROVISIONS—All state laws provide for recovering benefits paid to individuals who later are found not to be entitled to them. In addition to direct repayment, states utilize several tools to recoup these funds. States may, at the discretion of the agency, recover nonfraud and fraud overpayments by deducting from future benefits payable (benefit offset); and, under specific circumstances, benefit offset is mandatory. States may also recover overpayments from an individual’s Federal income tax refund through the Treasury Offset Program. Similarly, states may also offset overpayments with state tax refunds due to the individual, or by the interception of lottery winnings, or they can compel repayment by pursuing civil action in state court. Finally, some states assess interest and penalties on outstanding overpayment balances. The following table provides information about how states recover nonfraud overpayments.

¹ AZ, DC, MN, NJ, ND, OR, VT, VI, and WI - provision found in non-UI law (all other states' provision found in UI law).
² CA - summary judgment proceedings may be initiated if the claim was based solely on income received as an elected official; MA and NC - do not pursue civil action based on policy.
³ A penalty of $20 or 25% of outstanding balance is imposed.
⁴ If overpayment due to administrative error an individual is allowed to repay solely by voluntary repayment agreement, and the agency will not resort to any other methods of collection unless the individual breaches the agreement.

FRAUD PROVISIONS

RECOVERY PROVISIONS, FINES, AND CRIMINAL PENALTIES—For fraud, including willful misrepresentation generally and concealment of facts, states utilize the same methods to recover overpayments as they do for nonfraud overpayments. However, most states can pursue criminal action in court, which can lead to fines and prison sentences. Further, states can administratively assess additional fines or penalties. Pub. L. 112-40, enacted October 21, 2011, imposed a mandatory penalty assessment for fraudulent claims. States are now required to assess a penalty of not less than 15 percent of the amount of the erroneous payment against claimants committing fraud in connection with state and/or Federal unemployment compensation programs. The penalties are mandatory for any fraudulent payments established after October 21, 2013, and the penalty assessments must be immediately deposited into the state's account in the unemployment trust fund and used for the payment of unemployment compensation.

Although UI benefit fraud typically involves an individual's attempt to obtain or increase benefits, it also includes employers who attempt to prevent or reduce benefits to eligible individuals, and employers who abet an individual's attempt to fraudulently claim benefits. The following table reflects state law provisions on how states treat benefit fraud. A state's policy may be different (e.g. it may not, in fact, pursue criminal prosecution) and can change.

GENERAL NOTES: All states pursue civil action to recover fraud overpayments except AK, MA, NE, NC, PR, and SC. All states impose monetary assessments and prison time on employers who fraudulently act to prevent or reduce an individual's benefits. In addition, some states impose assessments/prison time for abetting an individual's fraudulent receipt of benefits. Where these penalties differ, the higher is shown.

¹ AL, AK, CT, GA, ID, ME, MN, NC, OR, PR, TX, and WV - penalty assessed under misdemeanor or felony statutes. Also for AL - in lieu of fines, if found guilty required to pay restitution in at least the amount of benefits fraudulently obtained.

² AZ, DC, HI, ID, IL, MN, NJ, NY, ND, OR, UT, VT, VA, and WI - provision found in non-UI law.

³ Individual receives 1.5 x benefits due for weeks delayed, thus increasing employer's experience rate.

⁴ The employer is assigned the rate for the year in which the violation occurred and the following 3 years. If employer is already paying the highest rate at the time of the violation, or the increase in the contribution rate described in this table is less than 2%, the employer will pay an additional 2% of the employer's taxable wages for the year in which the violation occurred and the following 3 years.

⁵ Benefit offset not possible since individuals committing fraud are ineligible for benefits until they fully repay the amount owed.

⁶ May impose additional penalties: 5% if overpayment >$25 to $1,000; 10% if overpayment >$1,000 to $2,500; 35% if overpayment >$2,500;

⁷ If not prosecuted, assessed 1 penalty week for each week of fraud; however if fraud committed within the past 3 calendar years, and fraud committed again, assessed 2 penalty weeks for each week of fraud. Limited to no more than 26 penalty weeks in any BY.

OVERPAYMENTS

DISQUALIFICATION FOR FRAUD AND MISREPRESENTATION—In addition to assessments and prison time, individuals may be disqualified from benefits. The provisions for disqualification for fraud and misrepresentation follow no general pattern. In nine states¹ there is a more severe disqualification when the fraudulent act results in payment of benefits. In California, New Hampshire, Oregon, Pennsylvania, and Virginia, it is more severe when the individual is convicted.

In California, any individual convicted of fraud or misrepresentation under the penalty provisions is disqualified for 1 year. In Rhode Island, there is no disqualification unless the individual has been convicted of fraud by a court of competent jurisdiction. Illinois does not deny a worker benefits for giving false statements or for failure to disclose information if the previous benefits are being recouped or recovered. On the other hand, in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Vermont, and the Virgin Islands an individual is not subject to the administrative disqualification if penal procedures have been undertaken. In Massachusetts, administrative disqualification precludes initiation of penal procedures.

Seventeen states include a statutory limitation on the period within which a disqualification for fraudulent misrepresentation may be imposed (see footnote 4 in Table 6-4). The length of the period is usually 2 years and, in six states, the period runs from the date of the offense to the filing of a claim for benefits. In these states, the disqualification can be imposed only if the individual files a claim for benefits within 2 years of the date of the fraudulent act. In Connecticut and Michigan, the disqualification may be imposed if a claim is filed within 6 years of the benefit year in which the offense occurred. In five states, the disqualification may be imposed only if the determination of fraud is made within 2 or 4 years of the date of the offense.

In many states, disqualification for fraud or misrepresentation is, as would be expected, more severe than the ordinary disqualification provisions. In 17 states, the disqualification is for at least a year; in others, it may last longer. The provisions are difficult to compare because some disqualifications start with the date of the fraudulent act, while others begin with the discovery of the act, the determination of fraud, the date on which the individual is notified to repay the sum so received, or the date of conviction by a court. Some begin with the filing of a first claim, while others are for weeks that would otherwise be compensable. The disqualification provisions are, moreover, complicated by tie-in with recoupment provisions and by retroactive imposition.

As Table 6-4 shows, the cancellation of wage credits in many states means the denial of benefits for the current benefit year or longer. A disqualification for a year means that wage credits will have expired, in whole or in part, depending on the end of the benefit year and the amount of wage credits accumulated for another benefit year before the fraudulent act. Thus, future benefits are reduced as if there had been a provision for cancellation. In other states with discretionary provisions or shorter disqualification periods, the same result will occur for some individuals. Altogether, fraud or misrepresentation involves cancellation of wage credits or reduction of benefit rights in 34 states and may involve reduction of benefit rights for individuals in 15 more states. The disqualification for fraud or misrepresentation usually expires after a second benefit year but, in California, it may be imposed within 3 years after the determination is mailed or served; in Ohio, within 4 years after a finding of fraud; and in Arkansas and Washington, within 2 years of such finding. In many states, as noted in the table below, the agency may deny benefits until the benefits obtained through fraud are repaid. In Virginia, the denial is limited to 5 years. In Colorado, benefits are denied if an individual's court trial for commission of a fraudulent act is prevented by the inability of the court to establish its jurisdiction over the individual. Such ineligibility begins with the discovery of the fraudulent act and continues until such time as the individual makes himself or herself available to the court for trial. In Maryland, the time limit for repayment is 5 years following the date of the offense, or 1 year after the year disqualification period, whichever occurs later. After this period, an individual may qualify for benefits against which any part of the repayment due may be offset. In Louisiana, repayment is limited to the 5-year period following a determination of fraud – a period that may be lengthened under specified circumstances.

GENERAL NOTE: W = week in which act occurs plus the indicated number of consecutive weeks following.

² AK, AZ, CA, DC, FL, KY, MN, NJ, SC, SD, TN, VT, VA, and VI - before disqualification period ends, wage credits may have expired in whole or in part depending on disqualification imposed and/or end of BY.

³ HI, ID, IL, IA, MD, MT, NH, NM, OK, PR, SC, VA, and WV - period of disqualification is measured from date of determination of fraud; ME and NC - mailing date of determination; VT - date of redetermination of fraud; AR - date of delivery or mailing of determination; AZ - date of claim or registration for work; CA - week determination is mailed or served, or any subsequent week for which individual is first otherwise eligible for benefits, or if convicted, week in which criminal complaint is filed; FL, NY, and TN - waiting or compensable week after its discovery; MS - first overpayment results in 6-week disqualification for each fraudulent week, second or subsequent overpayment results in 12 week disqualification for each fraudulent week; OR - as determined by agency; KY, MI, and NJ - date of discovery of fraud; VI - determination mailed or delivered; WY - week of fraud or week following the date notice is mailed.

⁵ CA - disqualification may be served concurrently with a disqualification imposed for any of the 3 major causes if individual registers for work for such week as required under latter disqualifications; also disqualification is 2 - 15 weeks if not paid benefits or 5 - 15 weeks if benefits received. The Director may extend the period of ineligibility for an additional period not to exceed 8 additional weeks for successive disqualification.

⁶ DE, DC, HI, ID, KS, LA, MD, NV, NM, NC, ND, PA, RI, UT, and WA - before disqualification period ends, wage credits will have expired in whole or in part, depending on end of BY.

⁷ If a false representation or failure to disclose a material fact is made more than once in a BY, or if benefits received exceed $4,000, the individual shall upon conviction be guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment of 1 to 5 years.

⁸ Plus 2 additional weeks of disqualification for each subsequent offense.

⁹ If the 15% monetary penalty is paid, the Secretary may declare benefits received unlawfully (and the interest) uncollectable and impose: 1 year disqualification if no violations in the 4 preceding BYs, or 2 years disqualification if 1 violation in the 4 preceding BYs, or 3 years disqualification if more than 1 violation in the 4 preceding BYs.

¹⁰ MO, NE, and OR - cancellation of all wage credits means that period of disqualification will extend into second BY, depending on amount of wage credits for such year accumulated before fraudulent claim.

¹¹ May be waived for good cause, or if the individual adheres to an authorized repayment schedule designed to repay benefits, penalties, and interest within 18 months.

¹² Two penalty weeks are served for each week in which fraud occurred.

¹³ Duration of disqualification lasts until benefits withheld or repaid if finding of fault on the part of the individual has been made.

¹⁴ 13 weeks for first week of fraud + 6 weeks for each additional week. No benefits shall be paid until overpayment and, as a civil penalty an amount equal to the benefits fraudulently received, is repaid.

¹⁵ Compensable week within 6-year period following date of determination of fraud for concealing earnings or refusal of job offer.

WRITE-OFF OF OVERPAYMENTS

After exhausting its options to recover overpayments, most states will permit the UI agency to write off (that is, cancel as uncollectible) certain overpayments. The criteria for writing off overpayments vary. Usually, it depends on how long the overpayment has been outstanding. However, most states have established additional criteria. The following table provides information on states' write-off provisions.
